HPE HAPPENINGS

BY: LAUREN MCCANN

It is March! Only 2 more months of school left until summer! I do not know about you, but I sure am excited. Spring Break is coming up as well. Are you going anywhere? Staying at home? Either way, I hope you have a fun time.

Spring pictures are on the 13th. If you did not like your fall pictures, or you would like to get new pictures, make sure to attend this.

Oh, I forgot to mention that St. Patrick's Day is on the 17th! Wear green or else you will get pinched!

we are LUCKY to be at HPE!!

A Must Read Book

By: Will Chuba

Books. Everyone's read some. But what happens when you don't know if there are any books that will interest you? What if you go the rest of your life not able to read a single book... forever?

The thought is frightening.

However, I, Will Chuba, have come to your rescue, student. I shall suggest books that will have a chance of piquing your interest. So, without further ado, let's-a-go!

Framed! by James Ponti

Being a middle schooler isn't easy. There are bullies, there's five pages of social studies homework, and just a lot of stuff that can make school so dull. But when a crime appears... it tends to spice things up for Florian Bates... especially when the FBI gets involved. A mystery that will keep your head turning, you'd have to be a

Habit of the Month

By: Will Chuba

Love. Happiness. Bunnies. This is all of the things the world needs to be a peaceful place where all organisms everywhere can have fun and enjoy life for what it is. This is the world we want, a world where everyone is dancing with their friends and singing "Kumbaya."

Yes, yes, it sounds absurd and impossible, even if it is what we all really want. However, to reach a goal, you must work hard, and I'll tell you how hard you have to work to get to your goal!

This is March, a new month, which means mystery-hater to hate this mystery! I advise you to read this book!

Bad Kitty by Nick Bruel

Y'know, everyone knows basic stuff about cats. They have the coolest relatives (lynxes for the win), they're better than dogs, and they can be a symbol of mischief. And may the world have mercy on whoever gets a black one....

Oh wait. Kitty's owner does.

Now, youngsters, don't be frightened by the amount of pages in this book! It may look long, but it is the equivalent of a graphic novel. With good storytelling, smart wit, and a generally compelling feel, you should definitely give Bad Kitty by Nick Bruel a chance!

Language Learners because she loves cultures and working in small groups, so it was and is the perfect job for her.

She was working in a district where there was a teacher that worked with all the kids and inspired Ms. Wood very much. She realized how much she loved teaching 2 ELL students.

When Ms. Wood was working with her two first ELL students, she absolutely enjoyed teaching them and getting to know them better.

As a kid, Ms. Wood has always wanted to be a teacher since Kindergarten and her wish has never changed. For her learning career, she spent Kindergarten in Dexter, Missouri, and the rest of it in West Plains, Missouri.

As a kid, she always loved reading, but when she started Middle School she played band and that became her favorite subject.

Finally, two fun facts about Ms. Wood are that she has traveled to 15 different countries in her life, and that she lived and taught in Quito, Ecuador for 1 year.

That's all for this month's Special Area Staff Spotlight! I hope that you have enjoyed it!

it's time for a new habit. This month's habit is Habit 7: Sharpen the Saw. This habit is all about focusing your inner chi (soul) in order to live a peaceful life.

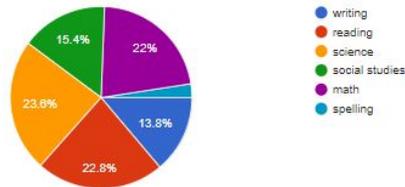

Sounds weird, right? I know it is very hard to comprehend, so let me put it in a simpler speech to help you understand.

Let's say... you might have a phone, and we all have school electronics. No matter how much you want to, you just can't spend all your time on your device. You also need to read to exercise your mind, and exercise to, well, exercise your body. With this info, I hope you'll make good decisions with your time.
