Happy Spring Break LSE Families,

It's hard to believe that just a week ago we had snow days and now it's time for spring break! I hope each of you take some time to relax, be with friends and family and hopefully get outside! It is important to also stay in the groove of reading a good book, practicing those math facts and being kind to others! I find it important to remind all of our LSE families that our theme this year is KINDNESS BEGINS WITH ME! How are you spreading our theme throughout our community? Spend some time spreading kindness throughout Lee's Summit! Last but not least, keep those chromebooks safe. If you are traveling, put them in a safe place so they are not left behind and charge them back up before returning! Make sure your digital footprint is something you are proud of! We will be looking forward to seeing each of you when we return!

Educationally,

Ms. Sample

Tips for Parents:

Practicing sight words and math facts with your child can really improve their skills.
